Report of General Dyer, Chief of Ordnance.

Sanitary Condition of the Army as Shown by the Surgeon General's Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMPTROLLER GENERAL.

Gustavus A. Bacon, Comptroller General of the Treasury, has made his annual report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1868, to the Secretary of the Treasury. During the year, the greater part of the subsistence of supplies for the army has been bought in the great market cities of the country, on proposals received by advertising, and when they were obtained at other points and in a different manner, it was because the circumstances of the public service seemed to so direct. Most of the officers on the coast and in the interior have been brought to California, and, to avoid expense of transportation, such course will be followed in the future when it can be done. He discusses at length the question of supplying the troops on the plains, and between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains; says the cost for a term of years has been comparatively large, but the settlement of the country, and the near completion of one branch of the Pacific Railroad, will materially reduce the cost of supplies to the troops. [illegible] to an officer of his bureau now on a tour in the section, who is expected to make a report in connection with recommendations as to the best methods of carrying out the general purposes of the bureau. Several items appear for the purchase of horses, reservations with military posts for sport on the plains, and more similar expenditures, protected by the military, would encourage more settlement, the location of farms, erection of mills, &c., and be of great advantage to the department. He states that, the average cost of fresh beef per pound this year was 9.3 cents, which is 11 2-10 cents, while in 1867 the cost of a cent per pound less than the cost 1867 year. The average cost per ration of the army for the fiscal year was twenty-two cents and ten mills for a complete ration. The average cost per ration in the department of the East was 20 1-10 cents, which is paid for by the cost per ration in the department of the Missouri was 21 7-10 cents, which is paid for by the cost per ration in the department of the Pacific was 28 cents, making a total of $1,335,861, of which the President's Bureau has [illegible] $1,041,696, which is 78 per cent. of the whole amount. The number of claims received during the fiscal year [illegible] 1867, was 4,000, and in 1868 it was 6,000. The number of claims received to date under acts of July, 1861, and prior acts, is 20,000. The number of rations to soldiers who were prisoners during the war as to their claims is [illegible] There have been paid on account of the war $200,000. General Sutton says that under the act of July, 1864, authorizing the payment of rations to officers, $1,000,000 have been allowed, and $1,000,000 have been charged to the army; $1,000,000 have been transferred; 000, aggregating $1,000,000 have not yet been examined; and 000, aggregating $1,000,000 have been examined and rejected. At the date of my last report, [illegible] the Treasury Department for action—at. The number of claims for rations received during the year was 11,000, of which 10,333 have been examined and sent to the agency. General Sutton closes by saying that the commissioner of subsistence has no suggestions to make for recommendation, as has been the case for the last year, that Congress authorize the appointment of Assistant Commissioners of Subsistence, with the rank of [illegible] and the appointment of Post Commissary sergeants.

COMPTROLLER'S REPORT.

The report of the Comptroller of the Currency for the year is about the same length as that of last year, and the bulk of it being occupied with interesting tabular statements. Among those to be now presented are those showing the condition of the banks, the amount of the various kinds of money reserves of the various states, exhibiting the amount of circulation and deposits in the several banks, and the amount of legal tender money on hand and available in New York and other banking cities. The reserves are growing considerably in excess of 25 cents required by law. The report shows that the amount of bank notes issued to banks, as a whole, basis and national, is nearly five per cent on their capital. It also shows that the average time of bank circulation in the United States is [illegible] years, that south of the Western States and to-west in the Eastern States, the highest average being 18 months to Rhode Island. The number of new banks established during the year was but [illegible] five, of which are new banks that will have circulation till Congress provides for [illegible] banks. The Comptroller will not make many recommendations, as he finds the law as it now is very well. He renews his recommendation of last year in favor of an early return to specie payments, in favor of a redemption of 3-10s by the National Bank notes in New York, and against the renewal of circulation on the balances of the New York City banks.

THE RETURNED PRIZES OF WAR OF SOUTHERN STATES. Richard [illegible] Secretary of the Treasury, has made a report to the Secretary of War in relation to the number of property claims for bounty in the case of [illegible] prizes of war. The report shows that the number of claims received to date is [illegible] of which [illegible] have been disallowed, leaving [illegible] claims now pending. THE PLATFORM.

The Democratic party of the State of New York, in convention assembled, reaffirms its allegiance to the principles of Democracy as enunciated by Thomas Jefferson, and declares its belief that the public welfare requires the application of those principles to the affairs of the State and Nation.

We denounce the Republican party for its violation of the principles of local self-government, for its creation of a vast centralized power, which threatens the overthrow of the rights of the States, for its disregard of the limitations upon the powers of the General Government, for its lavish waste of the public money, for its alliance with the trusts and privileged classes, for its attempt to fetter the free action of the people at the polls, and for its general inefficiency, corruption and extravagance in the administration of the affairs of the State and Nation.

We demand the election of United States Senators by the direct vote of the people.

We favor the enactment of a law providing for the registration of voters in cities, and the preservation of the ballots cast at elections, to the end that fraudulent registration and fraudulent voting may be prevented.

We favor the enactment of a law providing for the publication of campaign contributions and expenditures before election, and the prohibition of contributions by corporations.

We favor the enactment of a law providing for the publication of the proceedings of primary elections, and the punishment of those who violate the law
